

Waste not.

Capture, recover, and reduce document costs with Argos, document accounting software from Sepialine.

Argos is a comprehensive solution that tracks client expenses. Professional firms around the world use Argos every day to increase reimbursable revenue, eliminate excess printing, and get green.

Turn printing into profit.

Every day, your firm generates hundreds, even thousands of documents for your clients—documents that cost your firm money. Studies show that document costs comprise up to three percent of annual revenue and, yet, most companies simply chalk those costs up to overhead.

Argos lets you capture those costs, bill your clients for them, and get paid.

The capabilities you need

Secure control. Lock down your devices, then decide who gets access. Authenticate via PIN code, Active Directory, or proximity card.

Rock-solid tracking. Tamper-proof print tracking, low-impact copy tracking, and extensive integration, so that every expense gets counted.

Powerful analytics. Plug in your unit costs, then let Argos calculate your costs and report them beautifully.

Friction-free billbacks. Get reimbursed for client expenses and stay productive. With Argos you get the easiest billing popup in the business.

Better for the back-office, too

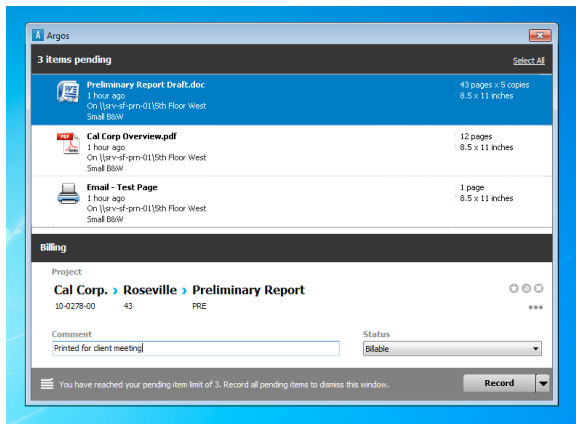

Argos records everything to a central Microsoft SQL Server. From there, Argos reports your expenses beautifully. Share presentation-reports internally or with clients. Argos exports data in nearly any format on a schedule so you can send the data back to your accounting system, eliminating the tedium and inaccuracy of manual data entry.

Getting green just got easier

Argos supports your sustainability goals by increasing user awareness and reducing unnecessary print and copy. Argos Secure Release requires users to fetch print jobs at the device, eliminating unclaimed jobs once and for all.

Billback that doesn't hurt

The Argos Desktop Client is designed with productivity in mind. Instead of conventional pre-billing, Argos pops up after the work is done. Intelligent Favorites keeps the projects you use most often at the ready. Snooze gets the popup out of the way. Argos does all that, and still holds everyone accountable. It's a flow that works, and you'll only find it with Argos.

Compatible in the extreme

Argos works with almost anything you throw at it. Embedded software runs on most popular MFPs to capture print and copy activity at the most accurate point: the machine where it happened.

When embedded isn't possible, the time-tested Argos Server Agent tracks printing at your print server or, when needed, at the workstation.

Argos is built to integrate. Our flexible software architecture can connect to nearly anything. Phone systems. RIP servers. Even online subscription services. If it costs you money, Argos can track it.

The result is a comprehensive expense capture platform that's ready for today and the future.
